

Speakers, Presenters & Workshops

International Society for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect (ISPCAN)

<http://www.ispcan.org/>

International Society for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect (ISPCAN) is the only multidisciplinary international non-profit organization that brings together a worldwide cross-section of committed professionals to work toward the prevention and treatment of child abuse, neglect and exploitation globally. Contact the office nearest your school for local resources regarding all aspects, from the medico-legal requirements to psycho-social counseling.

Lois J. Engelbrecht, PhD

<http://www.waldenu.edu/about/newsroom/publications/articles/2011/07-going-the-distance>

Lois is a social worker who has helped develop agencies and programs for all aspects of child protection at the grassroots level in the Philippines, Malaysia, Vietnam, China, India, Saudi Arabia, and Ghana. She is most closely connected to Center for the Prevention and Treatment of Child Sexual Abuse in Manila. She has also worked with international schools on child protection in NESA and AISA. She has trained local and international professionals on all aspects of child protection and presented papers at conferences led by International Society for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect among others. She is the author of the Personal Safety Workbook for International Schools and a speaker at the upcoming AISA Symposium on Child Protection.

Jordan Greenbaum, MD

Clinical Assistant Professor, Dept of Pediatrics

Emory School of Medicine

Staff Physician

Stephanie V. Blank Center for Safe and Healthy Children

Children's Healthcare of Atlanta

Office: 1-404-785-3829

Fax: 1-404-785-2995

Jordan.greenbaum@choa.org

Jordan Greenbaum is a child abuse physician from the United States who received her degree from Yale School of Medicine. She works with victims of suspected physical/sexual abuse, neglect and sex trafficking at the Stephanie Blank Center for Safe and Healthy Children at Children's Healthcare of Atlanta, where children receive forensic interviews regarding the suspected abuse, medical evaluations, mental health assessments and treatment. Jordan oversees child abuse prevention programs at the Center, conducts research on child sex trafficking and provides trainings on all aspects of child maltreatment for medical and nonmedical professionals working with children. She gives trainings locally, nationally and internationally, working with child-serving professionals to prevent, identify and intervene in cases of suspected abuse and sex trafficking.

Dr. Greenbaum is a consultant for the International Centre for Missing and Exploited Children on their Global Health Initiative. She currently serves on the Executive Committee of the Ray Helfer Society, an international organization of child abuse physicians, and co-chairs the committee on Human Trafficking. She served on the board of the American Professional Society on the Abuse of Children, and is a past-president. She co-chairs the Education/Training committee for HEAL Trafficking, an organization of medical professionals working on human trafficking issues. She is a member of the Georgia Children's Justice Coordinating Council Task Force on Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children (CSEC). She chaired a workgroup that developed medical guidelines for evaluating victims of child sex trafficking for the American Society on the Abuse of Children and co-authored a clinical report on child commercial sexual exploitation for the American Academy of Pediatrics. Major professional interests include international education and training on child sex trafficking and commercial sexual exploitation, as well as child sexual abuse.

Katherine Levi B.A., BSW., MSW

Website Link

Breakthroughs' Child protection specialist trainer

Katherine has over 25 years of experience as a professional social worker and a trainer. She has a Masters in Social Work from the University of Melbourne, a Bachelor of Social Work from Monash University, and a Bachelor of Arts from Melbourne University and is currently completing her PhD in the Faculty of Health Sciences at Melbourne University.

Katherine is the former CEO of the Australian Council for Children and Youth Organizations (ACCYO) where she created a world first training and accreditation system to assist organizations protect children in their care. Her work was widely acclaimed by Government and Child Protection experts. The Australian Defense Force Cadets commissioned ACCYO under Katherine's leadership to develop an online training course in child protection that was rolled out to thousands of their staff and volunteers around Australia.

Katherine currently teaches in the Master's program for Social Workers at Melbourne University and works as a consultant and trainer for organizations in relation to child protection

Robin Watts:

Link to Website

Robin Watts BA(HONS) the Co Director and Training Consultant worked in the Metropolitan Police for over 30 years. The last 10 years in the police as a Child Abuse Investigator and Trainer. He retired 5 years ago, having been commended for his work. He trained all police involved in this arena and social workers. Since retiring he trains all organisations for example schools, educational establishments such as Universities and private organisation such as British Gas, Volunteers and Charities. He also still trains police and social workers in a wide range of skills including assessment skills, forensic interviewing of children, sexual offences to name a few. He travels extensively across the World, mainly Europe, the Far East and Middle East training and consulting in this arena. Recently attended Moscow, Norway, Bangkok, Dubai, Abu Dhabi, Singapore, Turkey and many others. He has studied this subject to BA level and now studying to MA level.

Wendy Macías-Konstantopoulos, MD, MPH

Assistant Professor of Emergency Medicine, Harvard Medical School
Emergency Physician, Massachusetts General Hospital
Co-Founding Director, MGH Human Trafficking Initiative
Founder and Director, MGH Freedom Clinic
Medical Director, MGH Violence Intervention Advocacy Program

Wendy Macías-Konstantopoulos, MD, MPH is a board-certified practicing emergency physician at Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH) and Assistant Professor at Harvard Medical School in the Department of Emergency Medicine. An MPH graduate from the Harvard School of Public Health, Dr. Macías-Konstantopoulos also completed a Global Health Fellowship at the MGH Center for Global Health, Dr. Macías-Konstantopoulos has a specific interest in public health and health policy development that address social determinants of health, particularly as they pertain to the health and well-being of vulnerable, disenfranchised patient populations.

Through her pioneering work on health and human trafficking, Dr. Macías-Konstantopoulos was instrumental in the development of anti-trafficking work as a core program of the MGH Emergency Department's Division of Global Health & Human Rights. She is the co-founding Director of the MGH Human Trafficking Initiative and Director of the MGH Freedom Clinic, an innovative primary and preventative health care clinic for human trafficking survivors that won the 2014 Partnership for Freedom national competition. Dr. Macías-Konstantopoulos has published and lectured widely on health and human trafficking. Having worked with the International Organization for Migration's Counter-Trafficking Unit in Indonesia and represented MGH at the 2008 UN Global Forum to Fight Human Trafficking in Vienna, she is considered an expert in the field. She is a member of the New Hampshire Attorney General's Commission to Combat Human Trafficking, the Education and Training Policy Implementation Committee of the Massachusetts Attorney General's Interagency Human Trafficking Task Force, the Leadership Advisory Board for a new federal Massachusetts State Child Welfare Trafficking Grant, and the SOAR National Technical Working Group for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. In addition, Dr. Macías-Konstantopoulos is Chair of the Massachusetts Medical Society Committee on Violence Intervention and Prevention, Director of the MGH Violence Intervention and Advocacy Program, and a member of the Physician's for Human Rights Asylum Network.

Aaron J. Miller, MD, MPA

Executive Director

BRANCH - Building Regional Alliances to Nurture Child Health
www.branchpartners.org
Tel: 646-284-6677
Fax: 206-457-1949
Skype: aaron.miller7

Aaron J. Miller, MD, MPA is a child abuse pediatrician at Lincoln Medical Center in the Bronx, New York, and is the Founder of BRANCH - Building Regional Alliances to Nurture Child Health – a nongovernmental organization whose mission is to develop the capacity of health systems in low- and middle-income countries to address child maltreatment as a public health issue. Dr. Miller co-edited a child maltreatment medical curriculum for the International Society for Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect, and he is working with UNICEF and the Malawi Ministry of Health to develop national guidelines, trainings, and interagency operating agreements for 28 one-stop centers for child abuse and domestic violence.

Dena Nazer, MD, FAAP

Assistant professor, Dept. of Pediatrics, Wayne State University
Kids-TALK Children's Advocacy Center-Medical Clinic
(Preferred mailing address) 40 E. Ferry Street
Detroit, MI 48202
Office Telephone: (734)-785-7751 (clinic) / (313)-833-2970 (Kids TALK)
Office Fax Number: (313)-870-9228
Hospital Address: Children's Hospital of Michigan
Department of Pediatrics, Suite 1k40
3901 Beaubien Drive
Detroit, MI 48201
E-mail Address: dnazer@med.wayne.edu

Dr. Nazer is an assistant professor of pediatrics at Wayne State University. She is the Chief of the Child Protection Team at Children's Hospital of Michigan and performs medical evaluations of suspected child sexual abuse at the Kids-TALK Children's Advocacy Center (CAC) in Detroit.

Dr. Nazer did a 2-year fellowship in Child Abuse and Neglect at Children's Hospital of Michigan. She is certified by the American Academy of Pediatrics in both General Pediatrics and Child Abuse Pediatrics. Dr. Nazer is a board member and the membership chair of the Michigan Professional Society on the Abuse of Children (MiPSAC). She is a member of the Wayne County Death Review Team and the Kids-TALK Children's Advocacy Center Advisory Board. She is also a member of many other organizations including the Ray Helfer Society, the International Society on the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect (ISPCAN), and the American Professional Society on the Abuse of Children (APSAC).

Dr. Nazer has extensive post-graduate and specialized training in addition to her Medical degrees. She has published in the area of child maltreatment and presented at many educational seminars and conferences relating to her expertise in child maltreatment.

Dr. Nazer was appointed recently by Governor Rick Snyder as a member of the Human Trafficking Health Advisory Board. She also has been recently awarded the first BRANCH Partner Grant to expand her ongoing work in training health professionals on the diagnosis and treatment of child maltreatment in Amman, Jordan.

Nancy Fajman, MD, MPH

Associate Professor, Pediatrics, Emory School of Medicine
Affiliate faculty, Center for Injury Control, Rollins School of Public Health
Department of Pediatrics, Emory School of Medicine, Room 209
49 Jesse Hill Jr. Drive, S.E.
Atlanta, Georgia 30303
Telephone: 404-778-1421
Fax: 404-778-1401
nfajman@emory.edu

Dr. Fajman received her Master of Public Health and Medical Doctor degrees from Emory University School of Medicine. She has spent the last 20 years as both a general pediatrician - following children in the primary care clinic for routine development and care – and as a physician who subspecializes in the evaluation of child maltreatment. She especially enjoys teaching about these topics and helping others understand and address the professional issues involved in the assessment of child abuse and neglect.

The Tavistock Clinic Foundation:

Website Link

The Tavistock Clinic Foundation was established in 1982 to support the work of the Tavistock Clinic. Their focus is funding studies that increase the understanding of the impact of relationships on human development and those that show the benefits of psychological therapy. It will also continue to support innovative approaches to improving mental health and preventing ill-health. Find out more at www.tavistockclinicfoundation.org...

Bee Secure

Link To Website

Judith Swietlik-Simon, Coordinatrice E-mail : judith.swietlik@snj.lu

BEE SECURE is a joint initiative of the Luxembourg Ministry of Economic Affairs, the Ministry of Family, Integration and the Greater Region and the Ministry of Education, Children and Youth. The BEE SECURE initiative comprehends all the joint actions of these partners in the field of awareness of safe use of information and communication technologies. BEE SECURE is also a partly supported by the European Commission project and cooperates as Luxembourg Safer Internet Centre in the European Insafe network with the relevant structures in Europe.

Child Exploitation and Online Protection :

Child Exploitation and Online Protection \(CEOP\) Training

CEOP's Thinkuknow programme provides a range of free educational resources - films, lesson plans, presentations, practitioner guidance, games and posters - to professionals working with children and young people. Through the use of our educational materials you can help to empower and protect young people from the harm of sexual abuse and exploitation, both online and off.

APB Speaker Possibilities:

Janet Rosenzweig makes life safer for children, easier for parents, and more rewarding for professionals who have dedicated their careers to serving children and families.

Eli Newberger is renowned for his ability to apply good sense and up-to-date science to unresolved issues of family life. Newberger has been a pioneer in identifying and treating child abuse and family violence. In lectures and workshops for parents, students, teachers and other professionals, Newberger emphasizes the importance of nurturing character development. How do boys and girls develop the capacity to make good choices? What relationships and models guide them in the face of moral challenge? Who can provide those relationships and models?