

Legal Research Internship

Thank you for your interest in interning at the International Centre for Missing & Exploited Children (ICMEC). Interns contribute substantially to the work of ICMEC, and ICMEC's staff work closely with interns to make the experience as rewarding as possible.

The International Centre for Missing & Exploited Children (ICMEC) is a private, nonprofit organization, established 20 years ago. We work to make the world safer for children by eradicating child abduction, sexual abuse, and exploitation so that no child stands alone. We advocate, innovate, train, and collaborate to protect the world's children.

We ADVOCATE for children around the world by proposing changes to laws, treaties, and systems based on rigorous research and the latest technology.

We INNOVATE by partnering with leading technology companies to identify and develop new global solutions that protect children from abduction, sexual abuse, and exploitation.

We TRAIN partners on the front lines by providing tools to professionals who interface with children to improve prevention, facilitate treatment for victims, and increase the efficacy of the identification and prosecution of people who victimize children.

We COLLABORATE with key stakeholders by building international networks of professionals across disciplines to anticipate issues, identify gaps, and develop cross-cutting solutions.

As the workload of ICMEC continues to grow and resources are stretched, the contributions of interns are extremely important. ICMEC interns who share the same belief in our goals help to make the success stories happen. ICMEC offers full- and part-time internships each academic semester. Successful applicants will be highly motivated, detail-oriented students with excellent research and writing skills and a passion for public interest work.

The Koons Family Institute on International Law & Policy conducts and commissions original research into the status of child protection legislation around the world to help make children safer.

The Legal Research Intern will support The Koons Family Institute's Director by writing, editing, and conducting substantive legal and public policy research for a variety of publications, reports, white papers, and other projects. Interns may focus on topics such as child sexual abuse material, missing children, sex offender registration, child sex trafficking, child sexual abuse and exploitation, sextortion, and revenge pornography. Interns also may utilize foreign language skills and regional areas of expertise.

What are the requirements to intern at ICMEC?

The nature of ICMEC's activities requires that Legal Research Interns:

- Be available to work 12 to 15 weeks, at least 15 hours per week (20+ hours preferred) during the Fall or Spring semesters;
- Be available to work 8 to 12 weeks, at least 20 hours per week (30+ hours preferred) during the Summer term;

- Undergo initial and periodic background checks; and
- Have completed undergraduate studies (working toward a Master's or Juris Doctorate degree strongly preferred). We will consider students in their sophomore, junior, or senior year of undergraduate studies with relevant experience.

Is the internship paid?

All internships are unpaid, though ICMEC does provide a small stipend to help defray commuting costs. Internships also may be granted academic credit (please refer to your school's internship/externship requirements).

Does ICMEC provide housing?

ICMEC does not provide housing for interns nor do we provide a stipend to cover living expenses.

How do I apply?

An application form is available on our website (www.icmec.org/careers). Please submit the application form online and be sure to include a Statement of Purpose or cover letter, résumé, official or unofficial transcripts, and writing sample.
